

CLASS DIAGRAM EXAMPLE

- A company needs to store information about companies, their employees and their customers.
- Both are characterized by their name and age.
- Employees have a gross salary, employees who are managers have a category, as well as a set of subordinate employees.
- Of the customers also need to know your telephone.
- The application needs to display data for employees and customers.

